

Chuck Gillespie

Chuck Gillespie is the Director of Human Capital for Dealerflow Corporation and Managing Director of Peoplebase - a sister company to Dealerflow. Prior to his work at Dealerflow/Peoplebase, Chuck was the Head of HR for one of the largest specialty transportation company in the United States and was the HR Manager for one of the largest non-profits in Indiana. A 15 year veteran of HR, Chuck is an advocate of building a framework to managing human capital in the same ways that other aspects of your business are managed. Communications, collaboration and engagement are the words, but utilization of technology to make those words come to life is the centerpiece for success in making your employees happier and better performers.

Gillespie earned a Bachelors Political Science with a minor in Human Resources from Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN and an MBA with an emphasis in Finance from University of Indianapolis, Indianapolis, IN. He taught HR Management at Indiana Wesleyan University for three years.
