

Jeff Bockelman, President & Founder of CareerScribe LLC

Jeff has close to twenty years of business experience with over a twelve years in the employment industry as an executive recruiter and business owner. He began his career with Deloitte & Touche as a CPA, and worked in corporate finance for several business headquarters in the Midwest. During his first year as an executive recruiter in 1997, with the national firm Ajilon, Jeff received recognition as being the top producer in the nation out of 110 offices. That success helped lead to the creation of Springer Danz and Bockelman, LLC in October 1998, Temporary Avenue, LLC in 2000, and That's Good HR, Inc. in 2004. That's Good HR, has been the recipient of numerous growth awards, including being one of the Indianapolis Business Journal's "Fastest Growing Companies" for five straight years, and one of the "Growth 100" companies in the state for the same period. That's Good HR was also recognized nationally, as an Inc 500 company in 2006. When Jeff sold his business to his partners in November of 2007, to pursue CareerScribe, That's Good HR had $10 million in gross revenues, with 23 employees and over 200 temporary/contract staff employees.
